

ARTICLE 6.00
RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT REGULATIONS

06.01 General Purposes of Residential Districts

The residential districts established in this Ordinance are designed to promote and protect the health, safety morals, convenience, order, prosperity, and other aspects of the general welfare. These general goals include, among others, the following more specified purposes:

- 06.01.010 To provide sufficient space in appropriate locations for residential developments to adequately meet the housing needs of the present and expected future population of the urban area, with due allowance for the need for a variety of choices in site selections;
- 06.01.020 To permit improved movement on the public ways and effectively utilize existing public ways, and as far as possible, to mitigate the effects of heavy traffic and more particularly all through traffic, in residential areas;
- 06.01.030 To protect residential areas against flood, fire, explosions, toxic and noxious matter, radiation, and other dangers, and against offensive matter, heat, obtrusive lighting, glare, humidity, and other objectionable influences;
- 06.01.040 To protect residential areas against undue congestion, as far as possible, by regulating the density of population, the intensity of activity, and the bulk of buildings in relation to the surrounding land and to one another, and by providing for off-street parking spaces for automotive vehicles;
- 06.01.050 To require the provision of open-space in residential areas wherever practicable; and to encourage the provision of better standards of open space by permitting moderately larger bulk, higher density, and greater intensity with better standards of open space, in order to open up residential areas to light and air, to provide open areas for rest and recreation, and to break up the monotony of continuous building bulk, and thereby to provide a more desirable environment for urban living;
- 06.01.060 To provide for access for light and air to windows and for privacy, as far as possible, by controls over the height of buildings and structures;
- 06.01.070 To provide appropriate space for public and private educational, religious, recreational, and similar facilities and public utilities which serve the needs of nearby residents, which generally perform their own activities more effectively in a residential environment, and which do not create objectionable influences; and to coordinate the intensity of residential land use with the appropriate community facilities;

- 06.01.080 To provide a zoning framework conducive to freedom of architectural design in order to encourage the development of more attractive and economical building forms;
- 06.01.090 To provide sufficient space in appropriate locations for agricultural activities;
- 06.01.100 To promote the most desirable use of land and direction of building development in accordance with a well considered general plan to promote stability of residential development, to protect the character of the district and its peculiar suitability for particular uses, to conserve the value of land and buildings, and to protect the community's tax revenues.
- 06.01.110. To provide for and permit the construction, erection or placement of residential structure(s) partially or completely constructed in a manufacturing facility to be located on properties zoned for residential use consistent with Title 13, Section 13-24-201, Tennessee Code Annotated.
- 06.01.200 Truck Parking in Residential Zoning Districts

Commercial delivery and other large trucks, including tractor trailers, are not permitted in residential neighborhoods, including but not limited to R40, R20, R15, R10, and R6 zoning districts. This includes the tractor and the trailer, whether separate or joined together. No truck having a Gross Vehicle Weight, GVW, of more than 10,000 pounds shall be parked on a lot or on a street fronting the lot, except for the occasional delivery of personal items intended for use in the residence. This would include furniture, appliances, parcels, mail, or home services such as plumbing repair, carpet cleaning, upholstery repair, or similar activities. Delivery by trucks must be made between the hours of 7:00 A.M. and 9:00 P.M. Service trucks which are owner-operated and which are used solely for the purpose of providing building repair or maintenance are not subject to the provisions of this section. (Also see Sections 11.04.030 and 11.09.091)

06.02 Purposes and Intent of A-Agricultural Residential Districts

These districts are designed to provide permissible areas for the growing of crops, animal husbandry, dairying, forestry and other similar activities which generally occur and characterize rural rather than urban areas. These districts are designed, furthermore, to provide for very low density residential development generally on unsubdivided tracts of land whereon public sanitary service is least practical. In addition, these districts may include areas and lands not suited by reason of soil, geologic, topographic, or other limitations for development. These districts also include community facilities, public utilities, and open uses which serve specifically the residents of these districts or which are benefited by an open environment without creating objectionable or undesirable influences upon residential developments or influences which are incompatible with rural environment.

- D. The minimum width for any townhouse lot sold individually shall be twenty (20) feet.
- E. The maximum floor area ratio shall be computed for the entire common development and for each individual lot within the development. A single lot within the common development cannot exceed the maximum floor area ratio of .40 (.40 square feet of building area per one (1) square foot of site/lot area), and the overall floor area ratio of the entire common development shall not exceed .40. Furthermore, in no case shall the total aggregate number of townhouses and condominiums in a R-8 District exceed 30 percent of the total number of residential units proposed in the same R-8 District.

06.07.070 Additional Site Development Regulations

- A. Preliminary Master Development Plan Approval Required: The establishment of the R8 zoning district shall be based upon the submission and approval of a preliminary master development plan according to provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance. The preliminary master development plan shall form the basis of the proposed R-8 District, and, if approved, the plan and all of its components shall run with the land. All other conditions, regulations, and stipulations of the preliminary master development plan requirements shall be applied to any proposed development in the R-8 District.
- B. Final Master Development Plan Approval Required: The Mayor and Aldermen's approval of a preliminary master development plan of a R8 District shall authorize and form the basis for the Planning Commission's final approval of said development. The final approval of the Planning Commission of the development shall be subject to the provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance:
- C. Additional Site Design Standards: All developments occurring within a R8 District shall be designed and developed to comply with the standards of Articles 11.00, 12.00, and 13.00 of this Ordinance.

06.08 R6 High Density Residential District

06.08.010 Purpose of the R6 - High Density Residential District

The R-6 District is intended to provide locations for higher density, multiple family housing in the approximate range of 7 to 15 dwelling units per gross acre of site area. It is not the intent of this Ordinance, however, to restrict in number the dwelling units thereon. Generally, this district will be characterized by residential structures each containing a multiple number of dwelling units. The R-6 District applies to areas in which a mix of single-family and multiple-family housing is appropriate to create a unified urban neighborhood; transitional areas between lower and higher intensity uses; developing area of multiple-family housing where sufficient urban facilities are available or where such facilities will be available prior to development. This district is intended also to permit community facilities and public utility installations which are necessary to service and do service specifically the residents of this district, or which are benefited by and compatible with a residential environment.

06.08.020 Permitted Uses

4. Rear Yard	20	20	25

Setbacks from roadways scheduled for widening shall meet the setback from the projected future right-of-way line as identified in the Comprehensive Plan.

06.08.050 Reserved.

06.08.060 Use of Zero Lot Line in One-Family Detached Dwellings in R6 District

Within a common development, one (1) interior side yard may be equal to zero for one-family detached residential use, subject to the following additional regulations:

- A. The side yard opposite to the zero yard must equal at least 10 feet.
- B. The normal side yard setback requirement must be maintained adjacent to any lot with an existing structure not within the common development, or not otherwise designated for zero lot line use.
- C. An easement providing for maintenance of the zero lot line facade is filed with the County Register of Deeds and the Codes/Planning Department at the time of application for a building permit.

06.08.061 One-Family Attached Dwellings in the R6 District

One-family attached dwelling units are permitted in this district, subject to the following additional regulations:

- A. Minimum lot area is six thousand (6,000) square feet for an entire structure and four thousand (4,000) square feet for any one (1) dwelling unit sold individually.

- B. Minimum lot width shall be sixty (60) feet for an entire structure and thirty (30) feet for any one (1) dwelling unit sold individually.
- C. The side yard opposite to the common wall must be equal to at least eight (8) feet.

06.08.062 Townhouse Residential in the R6 District

Townhouse residential is permitted in this district, subject to the following additional regulations:

- A. A maximum of eight (8) townhouse units may be attached in any one (1) townhouse structure.
- B. The site area per unit for any common townhouse development must equal at least two thousand two hundred (2,200) square feet.
- C. The minimum size for any townhouse lot sold individually shall be fifteen hundred (1,500) square feet.
- D. The minimum width for any townhouse lot sold individually shall be twenty (20) feet.
- E. The maximum floor area ratio shall be computed for the entire common development and for each individual lot within the development. The entire common development and/or a single lot within the common development cannot exceed the maximum floor area ratio of 1.00 (1.00 square feet of building area per one (1) square foot of site/lot area).

06.08.70 Additional Site Development Regulations

- A. Preliminary Master Development Plan Approval Required: The establishment of the R6 zoning district shall be based upon the submission and approval of a preliminary master development plan according to the provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance. The preliminary master development plan shall form the basis of the proposed R6 District, and, if approved, the plan and all of its components shall run with the land. All other conditions, regulations, and stipulations of the preliminary master development plan requirements shall be applied to any proposed development in the R6 District. A preliminary master development plan is not required for property zoned R6 prior to July 14, 1998.
- B. Final Master Development Plan Approval Required: The Mayor and Aldermen's approval of a preliminary master development plan of a R6 District shall authorize and form the basis for the Planning Commission's final approval of said development. The final approval of the Planning Commission of the development shall be subject to the provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance:
- C. Additional Site Design Standards: All developments occurring within a R6 District shall be designed and developed to comply with the standards of Articles 11.00, 12.00, and 13.00 of this Ordinance.

D. One-Family Detached Dwelling Unit Exclusion: One-family detached dwelling units shall be exempt from the preliminary master development plan requirements when there are twenty (20) or fewer single-family units.

06.09 Basic Provisions of the PRD Planned Residential Development District

06.09.010 Purpose

The purposes of the Planned Residential Development District are:

- A. Encourage a variety and flexibility in land development and land use for residential areas.
- B. Provide a framework within which an effective relationship of different land uses and activities can be planned on a total basis.
- C. Provide a harmonious relationship with the surrounding development, minimizing such influences as land use incompatibilities, heavy traffic and congestion, and excessive demand on planned and existing public facilities.
- D. Provide a means of developing areas with special physical features to enhance natural beauty and other attributes.
- E. Encourage the efficient use of those public facilities required in connection with new residential development.
- F. Encourage innovations in urban/suburban design and the application of sound design principles.

06.09.020 Previously Approved Residential PUD's Applicability to the New Planned Residential Development District

Any project lawfully approved under the provisions of a Planned Unit Development zone (of this or any other government entity) is hereby approved under their original conditions and are hereby made an overlay of the zoning map of Gallatin as a part of this Ordinance for a period not to exceed two (2) years from the date of the enactment of this Ordinance. If no final plan approval or building permit is requested on the subject property at the end of this period, the Planning Commission shall review its previous recommendations and actions on the subject property and provide to the governing authority a recommendation to: (1) extend the current approval of the subject tract for a period not to exceed two years; (2) revise the current approval in regards to the use, bulk, and/or design standards required of the current approval; or (3) cancel the current approval and impose a new base zoning district on the subject project.

Furthermore, for all previously approved Residential PUD Districts (or portions thereof), which have not received final plan approval prior to the enactment of this Ordinance, the design standards and regulations contained in Articles 12.00 and 13.00 shall be applied to and required of these developments. A revised preliminary master development plan indicating the proposal's conformance with the new design standards contained herein shall be submitted and approved prior to the review and approval of a final master development plan for the proposed development or any portion thereof.

06.09.030 Deleted Ordinance O1003-23

06.09.040 Relationship to the Subdivision Regulations

The uniqueness of each proposal for a Planned Residential Development District may require that specifications for the width and surfacing of streets, public ways, public utility rights-of-way, curbs, and other standards may be subject to modification from the specifications established in the subdivision regulations adopted by the Gallatin Regional Planning Commission. Modifications may be incorporated only with the approval of the Planning Commission as a part of its review of the preliminary master development and final master development plan for a Planned Residential Development District and granted as a variance in the preliminary approval of the subdivision which must be concurrent with the final approval by the Planning Commission of the final master development plan.

06.09.050 Ownership and Division of Land

No tract of land may be considered for or approved as a Planned Residential Development District unless such tract is under the single ownership by a landowner. The holder of a written option to purchase, any governmental agency, or a redeveloper under contract with the governing authority shall be considered landowners for the purposes of this section. Unless otherwise provided as a condition of approval of a Planned Residential Development District, the landowner of an adopted Planned Residential Development District may divide and transfer parts of such development. The transferee shall complete each such unit, and use and maintain it in strict conformance with the adopted final master development plan.

06.09.060 Architectural Design

When the Planning Commission and/or Mayor and Aldermen have established architectural design as an integral part of the preliminary master development and final master development plans and stipulates architectural design principles and/or specific architectural design details, such principles and/or details shall be made a part of the preliminary master development and final master development plans and all zoning permits for the Planned Residential Development District. These design principles and details may be stipulated by Ordinance or through the restrictive covenants of the subject development or plat.

06.09.070 Application Process

- A. Preliminary Master Development Plan Approval Required: The establishment of the PRD zoning district shall be based upon the submission and approval of a preliminary master development plan according to the provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance. The preliminary master development plan shall form the basis of the proposed PRD District, and, if approved, the plan and all of its components shall run with the land. All other conditions, regulations, and stipulations of the preliminary master development plan requirements shall be applied to any proposed development in the PRD District.
- B. Final Master Development Plan Approval Required: The Mayor and Aldermen's approval of a preliminary master development plan of a PRD District shall authorize and form the basis for the Planning Commission's final approval of said development. The final approval of the Planning Commission of the development shall be subject to the provisions of Section 15.07 of this Ordinance:
- C. Additional Site Design Standards: All developments occurring within a PRD District shall be designed and developed to comply with the standards of Articles 11.00, 12.00, and 13.00 of this Ordinance.

06.09.080 Permitted Uses in the Planned Residential Development District

The following regulations govern the permitted uses applicable to the Planned Residential Development District:

- A. Within a Planned Residential Development District applied to the following zone districts, A (Agricultural), R-40 (Residential Low Density), R-6 Residential High Density, and R-20 (Residential Low Density), the uses permitted shall be the same as those permitted in the underlying base district.
- B. The permitted uses within a R-15, R-10, and R-8 Planned Residential Development District shall include the following:
 - 1. Uses permitted in the underlying base zone district
 - 2. Multi-family housing, including condominium and townhouse structures provided that the total number of dwelling units of this type do not exceed 30 percent of the total number of dwelling units approved for the overall site.

06.09.090 Minimum Site Area

The minimum area of any Planned Residential Development District is 3 acres. This minimum may be waived by the Planning Commission or Mayor and Aldermen if they determine the development of a site is impossible without Planned Residential Development District designation.

06.09.100 Required Setbacks and Bufferyards

The required minimum building setbacks and lot widths are not restricted, provided that the maximum density of the Planned Residential Development District is not exceeded. However, the supplemental district regulations and provisions of Articles 11.00, 12.00, and 13.00 shall apply to all Planned Residential Development Districts.

06.09.110 Off-Street Parking Requirements

The parking requirements for a Planned Residential Development District shall be the same as those required of the original zone district.

06.09.120 Relationship to the Surrounding Residential Neighborhood

Planned Residential Development District developments shall be harmonious and not conflict with the surrounding residential neighborhood. It shall be so planned, designed, and constructed so as to avoid undue traffic congestion in the surrounding residential area and provide a satisfactory relationship of land uses in connection with the surrounding area. Use of landscaping, screening, open space, architectural compatibility measures, and the placement of buildings shall be accepted land use planning tools by which this harmonious relationship can be created.

06.09.130 Site Development Regulations for Planned Residential Development Districts Exclusively Involving One-Family Detached Subdivisions

The following density and bulk regulations shall apply to a Planned Residential Development District involving the subdivision of lots for sale with one-family detached units.

- A. The maximum lot coverage for each dwelling unit (including accessory buildings) shall not exceed 45 percent of the lot area and the maximum overall density shall be in terms of the number of dwelling units per gross acre of all the area within the Planned Residential Development District.
- B. A maximum building height of 35 feet (measured from an average ground elevation) may be permitted.
- C. Lot creation shall be taken from net usable square feet, which shall be derived by subtracting from the gross square footage of the Planned Residential Development District, the required amount of open space, and the actual amount of street right-of-way or street easement required. The remaining net area shall be usable land for proper lot layout.
- D. If a Planned Residential Development District embraces more than one (1) zoning district, thus permitting different minimum lot sizes, then the lot sizes and commensurate lot coverages shall be in conformity with the requirements of the district in which the lot lies. If the lot subdivision process yields lots crossing district boundaries, the lot size and lot coverage may be an average of the applicable district requirements, weighted proportioned to the percent of the lot area within each district.

E. The maximum permitted overall density, minimum open space and recreation space for the overall project, minimum lot size and maximum lot building cover for individual lots shall be as indicated in Table 06-01 of this Section entitled “Site Development Regulations for Planned Residential Development District with Single Family Units on Individual Lots.”

SITE DEVELOPMENT REGULATIONS FOR PLANNED RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT
DISTRICTS
WITH SINGLE-FAMILY UNITS ON INDIVIDUAL LOTS

Base Zone District	Maximum Permitted Density Per Gross Acre	Required Open Space	Maximum Permitted Lot Coverage	Minimum Lot Size (square feet)
A	1.5	10%	40%	30,000
R-40	2.0	15%	40%	20,000
R-20	2.75	18%	43%	15,000
R-15	3.5	20%	43%	9,000
R-10	5.0	25%	45%	7,500
R-8	6.0	28%	45%	6,000
R-6	7.0	30%	45%	5,000

NOTE: Required bufferyard acreage (as defined in Section 13.04) can be used as required open space, provided the bufferyard is designated as common open space and is maintained in reasonable order by the Owner’s application.

Ex: 50 acres in R-10 District

$$50 \times 3.5 = 175 \text{ units} \times 7,500 = 1,312,500 \text{sq.ft.} / 43560 = 30.13 \text{ Acres}$$

$$50 \times .25 = 12.5 \text{ acres of open space}$$

$$\text{Streets and Retention} = 7.37 \text{ acres}$$

Ex. 50 acres in A District

$$50 \times 1.5 = 75 \text{ units} \times 5,000 = 2,250,000 \text{sq.ft.} / 43560 = 51.65 \text{ acres}$$

$$50 \times .10 = 5 \text{ acres of open space}$$

$$\text{Streets and Retention} = 6.65 \text{ acres}$$

Ex. 50 acres in R6 District

$$50 \times 7.0 = 350 \text{ units} \times 30,000 = 2,250,000 \text{sq.ft.} / 43560 = 51.65 \text{ acres}$$

$$50 \times .30 = 15 \text{ acres of open space}$$

$$\text{Streets and Retention} = 66.65 \text{ acres}$$

06.09.140 Site Development Regulations for Planned Residential Development District with Mixed Building Types

The following regulations shall apply to a Planned Residential Development District characterized by mixed building types. These regulations shall apply to a Planned Residential Development District when the proposed development contains a combination of two (2) or more of the following building types:

- Detached buildings each containing only one dwelling unit;
 - Townhouses or similar one-family semi-attached or attached buildings each containing only one dwelling unit;
 - Buildings each containing more than three (3) dwelling units.
- A. The maximum overall densities for Planned Residential Development District developments shall be in terms of the number of dwelling units per gross acre of all the area within said development.
- B. The maximum floor area ratio shall be in terms of a ratio of total floor area per total site area within said development.
- C. Yard requirements for Planned Residential Development Districts are waived and the following minimum controls shall be applied:
1. The minimum total recreation area (that part of the outdoor, open space area which is a relatively contiguous area for recreation purposes) shall be provided at no less than minimum ratio of recreation area per total site area.
 2. If a Planned Residential Development District development embraces one or more base zoning districts which require different maximum permitted densities, recreation areas and floor area ratios, these values shall be calculated separately for each distinct district, and a weighted average of each of these values shall be applied to the development.
 3. The maximum permitted overall density, minimum recreational area, maximum floor area ratio, and minimum lot size shall be as indicated in Table 06-02 of this Section entitled “Site Development Regulations for Planned Residential Development District with Mixed Building Types.
 4. Granting of Modifications - The Planning Commission and/or Board of Mayor and Alderman may approve modifications from the “Minimum Lot Size for One Family-Detached, One Family - Attached, Semi-Attached, Townhouse or Multifamily Units” and “Maximum F.A.R.” regulations indicated in Table 06-02. Modifications may be approved as either part of the approval of the Preliminary Master Development Plan for the development, or the Planning Commission is authorized to approve exceptions as part of the approval of the Final Master Development Plan if the Planning Commission determines that the proposed modification represents a minor amendment to the Preliminary Master Development Plan. Modifications determined to represent major amendments to the Preliminary Master Development Plan must be approved by the Board of Mayor and Alderman according to the provisions specified in Section 12.02.050 of the Gallatin Zoning Ordinance.

Modifications may be granted by the City as deemed necessary or desirable in order to achieve the objectives of the planned residential development that would result in a more desirable site development than would result if the requirements of this Section were strictly adhered to. Modifications may be granted based upon sufficient justification and the determination that the modification will not be detrimental to the public safety, health, or welfare, or injurious to other property or improvements in the neighborhood in which the property is located. In granting modifications, the Board of Mayor and Alderman or the Planning Commission may impose additional conditions or requirements which will substantially secure the objectives, standards, and requirements of this Ordinance.
